PRESIDENT CARNOT ASSASSINATED.

Paris, June 24.—Sadi Carnot, president of the republic, was stabbed mortally at 9:15 o'clock this evening in Lyons by Caserio Santo, an Italian anarchist 21 years old. President Carnot went to Lyons to visit the exhibition of arts, sciences and industries. He left the chamber of commerce banquet, given in his honor, shortly after 9 o'clock, and walked to his carriage which was waiting in the Place de la Bourse. He had hardly taken his place when Santo, with a newspaper in his hand pressed through the crowd and sprang upon the carriage step. President Carnot started slightly. Santo snatched a dagger from the newspaper and plunged it into the President's abdomen, near the liver. The president sank back unconscious. He was taken at once to the prefecture, and the most skillful surgeons in the city were summoned. Meanwhile Santo was arrested. The news spread swiftly to every part of the city. Infuriated crowds filled the streets. Before 10 o'clock an Italian restaurant had been sacked, and the police were obliged to strain every nerve to protect the Italian consulate.

President Carnot arrived in Lyons yesterday, and intended to remain there over Tuesday. He was accompanied by general Borius, chief of his military household, most of his other household officials Premier Dupuy, M. Bordeaux and other members of the cabinet. He was received enthusiastically by the mayor and district officials, who, in twenty-seven landaus drawn by horses draped with the tricolor, escorted him and his party to the Hotel de Ville, about three kilometres distant. Cheering crowds filled the streets and gave the president such a welcome as he had seldom received. There was luncheon at the Hotel de Ville and in the evening at the prefecture. From the balcony of the prefecture a large torchlight procession was viewed by the president. This was followed by fire works and an illumination. Afterward the programme prepared by the city officials for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday was submitted to him in detail, and he expressed his satisfaction at the arrangements. Today the president and his party paid a state visit to the exhibition in the parc de la Tete D'Or. Afterward the president held a supper at the prefecture. He planned to go to the theatre in the place de la Comedie this evening after the banquet at the chamber of commerce. He was in a peculiarly happy mood during the banquet and was noticeably elated at the cordiality of his reception not only by the crowd outside but also by the guests inside. He was cheered from the moment he left the chamber of commerce until he took the carriage for the theatre. The demonstrative enthusiasm of the crowd caused the confusion which gave Santo his opportunity, and he was enabled to push his way forward quite unnoticed until quite at the step of the carriage. As Santo sprang from the carriage and tried to escape he was seized and surrounded. But for the prompt appearance of the police he would have been torn and trampled to death on the spot. As soon as the police extricated him from the hands of his captors they hurried him off to the station house.

When Santo was within a few feet of the carriage he waved a paper as if intending to present a petition and thus threw off their guard the persons nearest to the president. He was seized just as he was about to jump from the carriage and had but half withdrawn the dagger. The president had repeated hemorrhages after he was removed to the prefecture. He sank rapidly but steadily until 12:40 o'clock this morning when he died. Mme Carnot and her two sons left Paris at 11:57 o'clock last evening by special train for Lyons. All the ministers who did not go to Lyons with the president were in council at the Elysee at midnight. The senate and chambers will be convoked today.

MR. LOGAN IS DEAD.

Another of the links that connect the past and present of the city of Winnipeg has been removed by the hand of death and another void is made in the fast diminishing ranks of that romantic aristocracy which was established by retired officers of the Hudson's Bay company, and flourished on the Red River previous to the political union of the territory with the confederated provinces. The land mark that has been removed is no less a person than Alexander Logan, than whom no one was better known, or no one's figure more familiar in the city of Winnipeg.

Shortly after 12 o'clock Saturday Mr. Logan returned to his home on George street from the city, and while waiting for his lunch he laid down on his bed. About 1 o'clock his daughter went to call him, but received no response. She became alarmed and called in Mr. Stephen Nairn, Mrs. Logan being absent in the city. Mr. Nairn saw at a glance that something serious had happened and hastened for a doctor, but death had already claimed his victim and when the doctor arrived his services were of no avail. From the appearance of the body he believed death to have been caused by apoplexy.

Mr. Logan was walking around the city Saturday morning in apparent good health. He did not complain to any one of feeling unwell, but after he reached home he remarked to his daughter that the heat was oppressive, and he then went and laid down on the bed, and death ensued a few minutes afterwards.

The deceased was a son of the late Robert Logan who came to the Northwest in 1801, in the service of the Northwest Trading company, afterwards incorporated with the Hudson's Bay company. He was born in this city Nov. 5, 1841, and was educated at St. John's college. Upon the demise of his father in 1863, he became to a princely fortune. He married Maria daughter of the late Richard Thane and great daughter of the late Andrew McDermott and a neice of A.G.B. Bannatyne. He was for many years a member of the city council and was Mayor in 1880-1871, and 1881.—Free Press.

ARCHBISHOP TACHE DEAD.

The sickness which befell Friday morning at 6:15, was the result of an aggravated form of a disease from which His Grace had suffered for the past seven years and which had baffled the skill of he best medical skill procurable. For the last two weeks Archbishop Tache had suffered serious bodily pain, and on Monday last reluctantly gave his consent to the performance of an operation by which he was assured by the only hope of his continuing to live. Certain death awaited him within a few days if the operation were not performed, while a bare chance existed that his system might be strong enough to withstand the shock of the surgeon's knife. He was for three hours and twenty minutes under chloroform, and the next day was as well as could be expected. On Tuesday he suffered a relapse with great prostration, and about seven o'clock on Tuesday evening the sacrament of extreme unction was administered to him by Bishop Grandin of St. Albert, in the presence of all the priests of Winnipeg and St. Boniface. The next day he was greatly improved though still in danger, and on Wednesday evening at nine o'clock Bishop Grandin administered the holy viaticum, the communion for the dying. Thursday he was resting tranquily though suffering pain. Until two o'clock Friday morning no change was apparent in his Grace's condition. But at that hour the crisis was reached, and he got visibly weaker, growing worse until six o'clock when he gathered close around him with a wave of his wasted hands his clergy and attendants and blessed them audibly. He died at a quarter past six conscious and resigned. Dr. Ferguson and Lambert had been with him all night and two priests were at his bedside always. Father Mercier, the parish priest of St. Boniface and Father Poitras spent the night with His Grace.

About 4 a.m., Friday morning, the Vicar-General, Fr. Allard, was called to His Grace's bedside, and Father Langevin of St. Mary's, with several others of the palace. Having blessed all his priests and religious communities in an audible voice, soon after six o'clock the great archbishop bade them a solemn farewell and said adieu to life in these touching and noble words: C'est la volonge de Dieu. Je vous dis adieu. Priez pour moi. Au revoir, au ciel. Having said this, the breath almost immediately left his body.

Economy and Strength

Valuable vegetable remedies are used in the preparation of Hood's Sarsaparilla in such a peculiar manner as to retain the full medicinal value of every ingredient. Thus Hood's Sarsaparilla combines economy and strength and is the only remedy of which "100 doses One Dollar" is true. Be sure to get Hood's.

PRINCE ALBERT, JUNE 29, 1894

Interest in an affair is proportioned to distance. Matters tangent to us every day naturally challenge our closest attention. It is so with the individual, society and the nation. When, therefore, we read of thousands stricken by the deadly plague now ravaging sections of far away China the matter is one passed by with total indifference, or, at most, a word or two about the horror of it. Yet when we hear of this disease, relentless in attack and fatal always, we must, from a feeling of that kindred humanity that binds all the people of the world together, feel regret for the suffering and sorrow that is the same the wide world over. With this feeling will come, also, one of gratitude that the conditions of life in this more highly favored western land constantly contribute to one's health and enjoyment. Natural conditions, when so auspicious, should foster patriotism. With the growth of patriotism national sympathy and charity also grow; so that, in the general, wise economy of life, good is finally evolved out of suffering disease and even death. The terrible plague in China has its moral lesson lying in and suggested by the pitiful wreck of human life it leaves in its wake.

One of the peculiar things in connection with the United States Finance is the condition as regards gold. There is very little of the precious metal taken at the Custom house, and the government is receiving payment for duties almost wholly in its own paper promises. In the first week of June only five hundred dollars in gold were received at the New York Custom House. Under the needs of the administration, with little gold coming in the gold reserve in the Treasury is slowly but steadily diminishing. In the meantime the gold is accumulating or rather is not diminishing, in the country. There is a statement that the New York banks hold nearly eighty millions of dollars in gold, which they practically do not use and which could be used in payment of duties to the great benefit of the Treasury reserve fund, but that the banks will not let this go, as they hope to force the government into making a new loan. The probability is that so long as there is plenty of paper money afloat which can be used in payment of duties the customers of the banks will not trouble themselves to convey gold to the custom house, and that so long as the banks have plenty of the government paper with which to pay their customers' checks they will not pay out gold.

The press can do much for the success of the coming Ottawa conference, and it is therefore important that the influential journals of the Mother Country should be represented there by gentlemen of Imperialistic sympathies. The London Times has made a wise choice in sending Mr. G. R. Parkyn, the well-known Canadian lecturer on Imperial Federation, to represent it at Ottawa during the conference. Mr. Parkyn has lectured twice in Toronto, and has been all round the world in the cause of Imperial Federation. Recently he has taken up his residence in London, and has become attached to the staff of the Times. Never has the British press reflected Canadian information and news so well as now, and no small share of the credit for this better state of things is owing to Mr Parkyn and a number of other Canadian writers, who have solved an old standing trouble by seeking service in the newspaper world of London.

The Free Press says:—The death of Archbishop Taché removes the most prominent survivor of a fast dwindling group of men whose names are inseparably associated with the history of the Northwest in the latter half of the century. To his clergy and those of his religion more intimately associated with him his loss will be mourned as a personal bereavement, and in a hundred homes of poor unlettered half breeds from York to the McKenzie river as in those of more cultured friends far out of hearing of the bells of St. Boniface the death of "Mon-seigneur" will be felt as that of a old and valued friend. The Archbishop was, if we may so express it, the father of the "old timers." The men whom he found here, from Fort Garry to Peace River, whereas a young priest he selected the Northwest as the field of his labors, have all passed away and many who were his later contemporaries have also preceded him on the last journey.

Wiman has been convicted. There could hardly have been a way open for any other result of the trial after the course taken by the defence, but the verdict it appears, is accompanied by a recommendation to mercy, and the rider may stand between the prisoner and the full measure of his deserts. We are not without some sympathy of a certain kind for Mr. Wiman. He is the victim of an irresistible desire to intrude where he should not have come. But as a champion of the commercial union policy he is a spectacle to command even pity, and in this way his case may have a sobering effect upon the vanity of his class.

The Province of British Columbia has a double supply of excitement—the floods and an election campaign. It is possible that the elections in the flooded ridings will have to be postponed, the damage done being very great. From all accounts there is heavy and pressing need of relief for the sufferers, and the best course for generous people of large means to adopt is to wire their money direct to the Relief Committee in Vancouver.

The doubt which saved John R. Hooper from the gallows was not big enough to keep him out of penetentiary and he richly deserves the long sentence the court can impose upon him for the attempted murder of his wife. The evidence in the murder trial which ended in his acquittal showed his desire to rid himself of the woman Brutality was not lacking in the treatment of the poor crazed wife, and although the evidence justified the jury's reluctance to send him to the gallows it now justifies Judge Bourgeois in sentencing him to a long term in penetentiary.

Not much regret will be felt over the killing of Mr, Charlton's Sunday Observance bill. In its original shape it was calculated to produce little good; in its amended form it was useless. If Parliament undertakes to enforce the observance of the Lord's day, it must go into the work thoroughly. The Charlton measure was a compromise, and compromises on matters appertaining to the principles of Christian duty must be failures. It prohibited some kinds of labor on Sunday and permitted others not a whit more necessary. In fact it was so framed as to fail in its purpose.

M. Gustave Paul Cluseret intends to introduce in the Chamber of Deputies a bill forbidding French cabinet ministers to marry foreigners and disqualifying for cabinet positions all public men who have foreign wives. Is M. Cluseret losing faith in the patriotism of French public men to do their duty to their country, or in the power of French women to hold their own in competition with the daughters of other lands? So ungallant a proposal was never looked for from a son of so gallant a nation.

The Manitoba Government crop bulletin gives the acreage under wheat in that province this season as 1,010,186 acres. Last year the same authority put it at 1,003,644 acres, and in 1892 it was estimated at 875,000 acres. Some people have made calculations to show that wheat cannot be grown at a profit at present prices. The Manitoba farmer would no appear to agree with them. The Western farmers' practice, it is presumed, is justified by their experience.

A delegation from the Methodist church attended the Presbyterian General Assembly at St. John and presented a fraternal address. This kind of greeting is becoming quite common among church bodies. And if Christian unity is to continue to remember the many and great points on which they agree, and to forget the few and the small ones on which they differ, such greetings will continue and become more common.

If the college reports presented at the Presbyterian assembly are taken as an indication, the church is progressing. Where the teaching institutions are not declared to be doing fairly well, they are doing excellently well with a strongly marked need of more chairs and more endowment, which is also a good sign. A feeling of hunger is legitimate in a growing youth.

Hon. Mr. Foster has taken a new and fine house at Ottawa and invited his friends to the housing thereof. Mr Foster, it is generally acknowledged, does have his long head for a sign post only, and is not the man to take a house unless he intends to live in it for a while. The Dominion Government means to stay.

The U.S. Senate in committee has refused to put a duty on wool. This looks as if a large and profitable trade in smuggling clothes from Canada might soon come to an end. Our neighbors, if this action is not reversed should soon be able to manufacture cloth as cheaply and as good as we do in Canada.

The bill to permit a man to marry his deceased wife's sister has met with another defeat in the House of Lords. The next time it should be introduced as a measure to allow a woman to marry her deceased sister's husband. It is the fashion to give the ladies the privileges they ask for now.

Catarrh, Heart Failure, Paralysis of the Throat

"I Thank God and Hood's Sarsaparilla for Perfect Health."

"Gentlemen: For the benefit of suffering humanity I wish to state a few facts: For several years I have suffered from catarrh and heart failure, getting so bad I could not work and

Could Scarcely Walk

I had a very bad spell of paralysis of the throat some time ago. My throat seemed closed and I could not swallow. The doctors said it was caused by heart failure, and gave medicine, which I took according to directions, but it did not seem to do me any good. My wife urged me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, telling me of Mr. Joseph C. Smith, who had been

At Death's Door

but was entirely cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. After talking with Mr. Smith, I concluded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. When I had taken two bottles I felt very much better. I have continued taking it, and am now feeling excellent. I thank God, and

and my wife for my restoration to perfect health." HARVEY HEED, Lacyville, O.

HOW TO WRITE

Something new every month in each issue of our magazine. Stafford's Magazine is a New York monthly of home and general reading.

The proposition is to send the Magazine one year for one dollar, the regular subscription price, and in addition to send each subscriber fifty-two complete novels during the twelve months, one every week.

This is not a lottery scheme. Every number contains a complete novel by mail, postpaid, every week for fifty-two weeks and in addition you get the magazine once a month for twelve months, all for one dollar. It is an offer which the publishers can only afford to make in the confident expectation of getting a hundred thousand new subscribers. Among the authors of the coming series are Wilkie Collins, Walter Besant, Mrs. Oliphant, Marion Crawford, Florence Marryat, Anthony Trollope, A. Conan Doyle, Miss Braddon, Constance Maynard, Miss Thackeray and Julie K. Sutro. If you wish to take advantage of this unusual opportunity to send one dollar to Stafford's Magazine, one year. Your first copy will be mailed you at once, and one of the fifty-two novels on each week while your subscription is running. Each week will be sent you by return mail. Remit by P.O Order, registered letter or express.

Its "Saunterings" columns are inimitable. Its society news, especially of the doings of the 400 of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, and of over the world, is not excelled by any newspaper. Its Financial Department is authority with all bankers and brokers. In its "Literary Show"—notes on current literature—it is the cleverest of reviewers. Its Dramatic Review makes it the most interesting paper for all lovers of sport—yachting, football, rowing, shooting, fishing, etc. Its "On the Turf" excels all other racing notes. Its burlesques, parodies and poems are the cleverest. Its stories are by the best writers among them Arville Richardson, F. Marion Crawford, Julian Hawthorne, Edgar Fawcett, Gilbert Parker, Mary J. Rowher (Lance Falconer), Barry Pain, Paul Bourget, Rudyard Kipling, Ambrose Bierce, etc. etc., and are, even if a little risqué, for ever clever, bright and pretty, without coarseness or anything to offend the most refined and moral woman. In addition to all this there is each week a supplement, portrait, in colors, of some man eminent in the walk of life.

From some unknown cause his left hand slipped and was caught on the saw and the thumb, index and middle fingers were cut off and the third finger broken. The hand was at once dressed and the patient is now doing as well as can be expected, but it will be some time before Mr. Shaw will be able to return to duty.

Sunday next is the twenty-seventh anniversary of our fair Dominion. Failing on Sunday, the day will be celebrated here on the following day, Monday. A committee of citizens has been formed consisting of Messrs. J. F. Bett, M.L.A., G. Neilson, G. R. Russell, W. White and H. E. Ross. A good programme of horse races, bicycle races, and other athletic sports are being arranged for. The committee is a good one and the people can rely on a good days sport. A cricket match has been arranged for but not fully decided upon, as it will interfere with some of those wishing to take part in the games. It is to be regretted that the land could not have been re-organized in time for the celebration, as nothing adds so much to the enjoyment of a day of that kind as music. However, we are satisfied that Prince Albert will not be behind in doing honor to the day we all celebrate

JAMES TAYLOR, ASSIGNEE

Prince Albert,
March 25 1894.

How many persons know that Ripans Tabules, now so largely advertised and used, are simply the favorite prescription of their family doctor presented in a scientific manner and a form convenient for handling, convenient preservation and use? In the great hospitals of the metropolitan cities, where the wealthy find better care than in their own luxurious homes, the ingredients of Ripans Tabules are administered to thousands of rich and poor alike with beneficial effect. They are the most dependence of the most eminent physicians in cases of derangement of the digestive organs, such as dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness and other ills connected with the stomach, liver and bowels. For some years one of the principal hospitals in New York City has used a formula, differing slightly from the common one, that has been found of unusual efficacy. Through the recommendation of physicians its mission of healing has been so widely and rapidly extended that it finally seemed desirable to prepare the prescriptions in a convenient form, so as to make it available to the whole public at a moderate price, and to announce the fact through the recognized medium for securing public notice, advertisements in the columns of the newspapers of the land. This has been done, and now the time is not far distant when every family of intelligence will be certain to possess a supply of Ripans Tabules to use as a remedy for existing ills. They are already to be found on sale almost everywhere, and any druggist or dealer will supply them. A box, containing six tabules is sold for 75 cents, and a gross package, containing four boxes, for $2. They will be sent by mail, post paid, to any address on receipt of price, by the Ripans Chemical Company, No. 10 Spruce St., New York.
